

LIBERTY HILL CITY GUIDE

▶ History & Overview

Located 15 miles west of Georgetown and 33 miles northwest of Austin, the town of Liberty Hill began in the 1840's with a few settlers. William Oliver Spencer was named postmaster after a post office was created in 1853, three miles west of Liberty Hill's current location. Spencer later suggested that the town be named Liberty Hill. Downtown Liberty Hill still has many of its original buildings, a few of them which have been restored.

▶ Education

Liberty Hill Independent School District (LHISD) is a 5A school district serving students K-12. Impressive universities, colleges, junior colleges, art and culinary and medical/dental facilities are in relatively close proximity to Liberty Hill. They include Liberty Hill Dental Assisting School, The University of Texas at Austin, Central Texas College, St. Edward's University, Austin Community College, University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, Southwestern University, The Art Institute of Austin and Le Cordon Bleu Culinary Institute of Austin.

▶ Major Business Industries

Liberty Hill has become one of the fastest growing communities in the Austin Metro area. With close proximity to the Permian Basin, Houston and Dallas, Liberty Hill is situated in a prime location for oil & gas opportunities. Additionally, just a few short miles to Austin, the high-tech hub of Texas, Liberty Hill is positioned for creative technology, clean technology, computer software, architecture and manufacturing businesses.

▶ Arts & Culture

Looking for some interesting cultural experiences? Be sure to visit these local treasures: Liberty Hill Sculpture Park located at Lions Foundation Park, The Sculpture Garden which is home to 25 larger-than-life sculptures and the City Park Cinema for summer movies in the park.

▶ Dining

Liberty Hill is home to a variety of dining options, including Dahlia Café, Malted Grains, Jardin Corona, Agape Java, Happy Wok, Major's Burger Company, Texas Taco Kitchen, Smokey Mo's BBQ and Fratelli Pizza.

Photo courtesy of Gopantherslh, CC BY-SA 4.0
(<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0>), via Wikimedia Commons

LIBERTY HILL

CITY GUIDE

▶ Wineries, Breweries, & Pubs

Need a place to unwind and relax? Residents and visitors can enjoy several wineries and breweries, including the Thirsty Mule Winery & Vineyard, San Gabriel River Brewery, Inc., Liberty Hill Beer Market, Hell or High Water Brewing, Bull Creek Brewing and Fire Oak Distillery.

▶ Parks & Outdoors

Texas Hill Country living offers residents vast opportunities to enjoy the great outdoors. The city has several public parks and attractions, including City Park Pool, Lions Foundation Park, Splash Pad, Stubblefield Visitors Center, Veterans Memorial Park and Wetzel Park.

▶ Festivals

Liberty Hill hosts community events and festivals throughout the year. Some of these celebrations include Christmas Festival, Fair & Rodeo, Independence Day Spectacular, International Sculpture & Hot Air Balloon Festival, Whimsy & Wonder Art Festival and Movies in the Park.

▶ Neighborhoods

Liberty Hill has several upscale neighborhoods being built around downtown. Positioned in the Texas Hill Country off State Highway 29 West, the town offers residents small town living with excellent schools and spectacular views. Notable neighborhoods include Bear Creek Ranch, Cierra Vista, Iron Oak, Mesa Vista Ranch, Quarry Lake Estates, Rosemont, Stonewall Ranch, Bridle Gate, Clearwater Ranch, Jenks Branch, Northgate Ranch, Rancho Santa Fe, San Gabriel River Ranch, Sundance Estates, Carrington Ranch, Durham Park, Liberty Parke, Orchard Ridge, Rio Ancho and Santa Rita Ranch.

Photo courtesy of libertyhilltx.gov

FOR MORE INFORMATION, VISIT
libertyhilltx.gov